Weaver and Sparks in the House of Representatives Come Near Having a Fisticuff.

Litigation in Regard to the Gold Hill Mining Company of Boulder, Col. Ended.

The Nicaragua Scheme Seeming to Be Coming into Popular Favor.

Burned to Death.—Leap from a Window.—Fatal Railroad Accident.

Senate.
Washington, December, 21.—Beck introduced a bill authorizing the issue of legal tenders of the United States upon gold deposits. Also repealing the laws taxing bank capital, and deposits and the check stamp act.

The president presented a letter from the Secretary of the interior showing the necessity of additional appropriations for pensions during the current fiscal year of 18,300,000 dollars.

An hour was occupied in discussion of private claims.

The consideration of the bill to distribute the twenty-eight million dollar fund among the states, was resumed, after which the Senate went into executive session.

House.
Washington, December 21.—The motion to dispense with the morning hour failed and the speaker called for the committee reports.

Woods moved that the House go into a committee on the funding bill for an hour debate.

Pending this question Robeson offered the following resolution:

Resolved: That the two houses will assemble in the chamber of the house of representatives on the second Wednesday in February 1881, at twelve o'clock and that the president of the Senate shall be presiding officer; that two persons shall be appointed as tellers on the part of the Senate, and two on the part of the house to make lists of the votes as they shall be declared; that the result shall be declared by the president of the Senate who shall announce the state vote and the persons elected to the House which announcement together with the votes shall be entered on the journals of the two houses.

The speaker decided that the resolution presented was a question of privilege.

Wood raised the question of consideration.

Robeson thought Congress would enjoy the holidays after doing its duties. He desired to speak on the question of the consideration.

The speaker ruled that it was not debatable but notwithstanding, amid cries of order from the democrats, this was the resolution under which the presidents were counted in up to Lincoln.

Tomson, of Illinois, said he desired to antagonize every bill until his constitutional duty was done.

The House on a vote, yeas 87, nays 96, refused to consider Robeson's resolution.

On a strict party vote the green-backers except Ladd voted with the republicans—aye.

The House then went into a committee on the funding bill.

An attempt by Wood to limit the debate was voted down.

There was exciting opposition to the bill on the part of Weaver, Bland and Mills who said they would oppose its passage by every parliamentary means.

Washington Racket.

Washington, December 21.—The disgraceful scene in the house of representatives this afternoon are absorbing the topic of town talk to-night and conjures are ripe as to what will be its consequences to-morrow. It is agreed on all hands that the two principals in this most unseemly affair must be subjected to the severe discipline of public reprimand by the speaker of the House, and compelled to apologize for their grossly unparliamentary language and conduct on penalty of expulsion in the case of refusal. The excitement in the hall during the progress of the altercation and for some minutes after was intense and beyond description. When Sparks roared out "You are a scoundrel and a villain," in response to Weaver's epithet of "liar," Weaver rapidly walked towards him sipping off his coat as he proceeded and Sparks after clutching a chair for a moment as if to raise it for a weapon commenced to take off his coat also and moved towards his approaching adversary. A number of their respective friends hastened to the scene and held them back but Jones of Texas, a greenback sympathizer with Weaver had meanwhile jumped over his desk and exclaiming "If there is going to be a fight, I'm in" Mills of Texas was observed to plunge his hand into a hip pocket as if to draw a revolver, while a number gathered from all parts of the house and amid cries of "order," "order," "sergeant at arms" and all sorts of undistinguishable utterances; the confusion momentarily ceased and it actually looked as though a free fight was imminent. Speaker Randall very properly disregarding the fact that the House was in a committee of the whole, and that no motion to rise had been made hastened to the chair, displaced the mild mannered chairman, who was ineffectually trying to quell the tumult and sternly pounded with the gavel and commanded order and for the sergeant at arms to enforce it. This command proved effectual and the parliamentary forms of coming out from the committee of the whole was then promptly gone through with and the House adjourned until noon to-morrow. It is proper to add that the sympathy of the House and the current of popular feelings are mainly with Weaver and against Parks for the latter manifestly provoked the violent issue and drew Weaver into an outburst very unnecessary.

Representative Caldwell of Kentucky to-day submitted to the House on behalf of the private land claim committee an adverse report on the bill authorizing the court of claims to ascertain and determine the title to the Rancho Panoche Grande Commodity known as the McGarhan claim which has been before the various departments of the government for twenty-one years and then proceeded to say that without discussing the original merits of McGarhan's title they are of the opinion that the action contemplated by the bill should not be taken by congress. They base this conclusion on the ground that the whole powers of congress by legislation to the provisions of the bill are judicial in as much as it proposes to repeal the repeated discussions of the supreme court and settle the right and title of the various parties. The report says there should be some end to litigation, that litigation should be respected by the legislative department of the government. The committee suggested that if the decisions of the supreme court were erroneously and McGarhan's title was originally valid his only remedy now is by a direct act of congress confirming his title of the said land that had not been legally disposed of by the government and the payment to him in money or other land in an amount equal to so much of the same as the Government has parted with to innocent purchasers. The committee in conclusion recommended that the bill should not be passed but that it be laid on the table.

Myers of Indiana submitted a minority report signed by himself in which it is argued that the case should be re-opened and re-adjusted as a matter of simple justice to McGarhan.

The bill and both reports were placed on the calendar for future reference.

The Secretary of War to-day transmitted a report made by Maj. Gill and Pie of the engineer corps giving the results of the examinations as still squamish. The Nooksack, Skagit and Sno bonish rivers in Washington territory and Sinslaw bay region. He urges the appropriation of 24,000 for the purchase of a snag boat to patrol the above named rivers and of $1,000 to make a thorough survey of the harbor and outer bar for the benefit of the Sinslaw bay small fishing vessels.

Senator Omer to-day introduced a bill authorizing the Utah & Northern railroad company to construct such branches of its road in Utah, Idaho and Montana as it may deem advisable with the same grants, powers and privileges and upon the same terms and conditions as provided by the act of March 30, '73, for its main line.

The Nicaragua Scheme.
The Times editorial on the two canal projects states the names of incorporators of the Nicaragua project give promise of financial support and vigorous action and there are assurances that the necessary capital is already pledged. One thing is tolerably certain. If the Nicaragua canal is built it will be by American capital, it is hoped too it will be in all respects a legitimate enterprise, free from all suspicion of intrigue, political or financial, and all necessity for such devices as heavy advance to projectors out of the subscriptions of the share holders, special founders shares and the payment of interest on the capital during its construction.

The same paper says. The recent election of the Trust company has caused dissatisfaction among the members of the American Mining Exchange who were promised by the old board of trustees a representation of three members in the board in anticipation of the proposed consolidation of that exchange with the New York exchange. There is even talk of asking for the appointment of a receiver of the Trust company and a meeting was called for yesterday afternoon with a view of taking definite action. During the day, E. T. Lawrence the new vice-president of the Trust company visited the Exchange and had a private conference with the leaders on the government and course, in which he discouraged such steps saying the trustees had the interests of the Exchange at heart and intended to do all in their power to aid it. He represented the company to be in a sound condition having $140,000 in the treasury.

Not Guilty of Fraud.

New York, Dec 21.—The suit of the Government against Julius B. King importer of kid gloves which has been in progress in the U. S. district court ended to-day. The suit was brought to recover penalties aggregating $620,000 for passing through the custom house on alleged fraudulent claims. This morning the jury handed in the following verdict: "We find a verdict for the defendant and we cannot find any invoices that he states at less than the actual value."

Unfortunate Seafarers.

Boston, Dec. 21.—Capt. Richard Murphy of the steamer Adams reports that sixteen miles east of Chatham he was boarded by the captain of the barque Fearless, forty days from Brattle Harbor, Labrador, bound to New York. She had lost two sets of sails, bulworks stove in and her fore top-gallant masts gone and leaking badly. The crew had been living on salt herrings eight days. Captain Murphy furnished them eight days provisions and parted company.

Oklahoma.

Caldwell, Kans. Dec 21.—The weather is very cold and the wind severe. The settlers remain in camp and say they will not return home until they go to Oklahoma. They have two hundred wagons ready to join them. They are receiving supplies and say they will start into the territory if the soldiers shoot them down. They are on the warpath hunting for the man that said they were pitiable looking or showing weakness.

A Victim of the Land Disputes.

London, Dec. 21.—A tenant named Muller while returning from a ball in Robe market last night was fired on by six men who were concealed behind a wall on the road to Holly Mount. He died immediately. All of the balls took effect. It is thought that the murder originated over a land dispute. There has been no arrest has been made as yet.

Failed.

St. Louis, Dec. 21.—It is reported on change this noon that the commission house of Hanson, Barthol & Co. have failed. Few facts have been obtained but it is said the failure is due to a fall of from six to eight cents per bushel on eight hundred thousand bushels of wheat.

Railroad Accident.

New York, Dec. 21.—As the Washington express train on the Pennsylvania railroad passed Bristol, Pa. this morning two hours late it ran into a number of passengers about to enter the train bound for Philadelphia. Three of them and probably four were fatally injured.

The President Pays a Visit.

New York, Dec. 21.—The President visited the Brooklyn public schools to-day.

Telephonic Communication.

London, Dec. 21.—The general postoffice states that it is prepared to establish in any town telephonic communication, at the same time holding itself ready to establish or continue any system of inter communication that may be introduced by existing companies.

Litigation Ended.

Denver, Dec. 21.—All litigation in regard to the Gold Hill Consolidated Mining Company's property of Boulder, has been ended by the payment of something over $20,000. Work was resumed upon the mines yesterday.

A Fatal Leap.

Toledo, O., Dec. 21.—The Milburn Hotel, situated near the Milburn wagon works burned this morning. Henry Asmun, an employee of the wagon works leaped from a third story of the building and was killed.

Heavy Snow.

New York, Dec. 21.—A Petersburg Virginia special says: Washington and Newport Rhode Island report heavy snow storms. There was a considerable fall of snow here about six o'clock this morning.

No Quorum.

Washington, Dec. 21.—The Ways and Means and Appropriation committees could not obtain quorums to-day and the Pacific railroad committee adjourned over the holidays.
